Ready to Go into Court
if Necessary

see that the fighting men get the recognition that they deserve.

The petition is to be found in scores of places all over Boston and is certainly proving its popularity with service men in the eastern on Boston Common and at the Y. M. C. A. Knights of Columbus, and the Liberty Halls, as well as in other places where men of both branches of the service congregate. At Wilson's restaurant, where hundreds of shopkeepers and business men dine each day, the petition numbers hundreds of supporters.

Recent government reports stated that there were 30,000 men idle in Boston. A glance at the hundreds of ads in the Boston American bear witness that a large number of them are men who heeded the call of country and now returned from the front or a training camp face a future that is not without its dark side.

To aid these men in finding work the American has gladly thrown open the use of its advertising columns to the War Relocation Authority, which the Soldiers' Fund is helping. The employers who are willing to hire their returned soldier or sailor employees.

FOR BENEFIT OF ALL-
While the term soldiers and sailors is used frequently in these columns because it is commonly applied, the Soldiers' Friend is for the benefit of all men in the service, whether soldiers, sailors or marines, or all men honorably discharged from the service.

The legal department is ready to go into court to aid these men and their families. One such case is to be taken up this week when the sister of a young man who was killed in action on the front is to apply for the appointment of her husband's guardian in order that she may ob-

The legal department is made up of trained lawyers who have had experience in all forms of legal work pertaining to the army and navy. Maurice Falais, an attorney associated with G. S. McFarland at No. 1 Beach street, was for a year in charge of legal aid work at the office of Commandant Bush at the Charlestown Navy Yard.

Daniel F. O'Rourke, also of the legal department, was engaged in similar work in the navy. He is a resident of Longers where he lives at No. 354 Main street.

Richard M. Banash, assistant in the legal department, was, until recently a member of the Naval Reserve Force and was graduated from Boston University in 1916.

"Father John's Medicine certainly helped my children. I can think of one that whooping cough all at one time. I had pneumonia and after I took it I proved healthy. My husband at one time was all run down and had a terrible cough and cough so I got Father John's Medicine. Everybody thinks I have a nice family. I have six children—but this picture does not include my youngest boy." (Signed) Mrs. Henry Callan, 938 30th St., Milwaukee, Wis.

After an illness Father John's Medicine builds up the body because it is all pure wholesome nourishment and free from opium, morphine, chloroform or other poisonous drugs and alcohol. Father John's Medicine has had many cures of colds and throat troubles, coughs and sore throats, and asthmatic and weak bodies.

Bond Bread

Thirty well known women of Boston and environs, chose the 121 best home-made loaves from the many submitted in the Bond Bread Baking Contest last Saturday, January 18th.

Our own bakers have copied the best points of these 121 prize home-made loaves.

And by the special Bond Bread process, we have combined these best home-made qualities in one bread, called Bond Bread, because it is guaranteed by the Bond of the General Baking Company:—

1. To contain the same pure home ingredients as used in those 121 prize loaves.
2. To have the same texture, taste, and nutritive value as the best of those home-baked loaves.

Bond Bread is so-named because this Bond is behind each loaf—

The General Baking Company hereby warrants that the loaf of bread contained within this germ-proof and dust-proof wrapper is made from the following pure food materials:—flour, compressed yeast, pure water, best fine salt, pure shortening, sugar

On the waxed, air-tight wrapper of each loaf of Bont Bread you will find our guarantee, with a complete list of the pure "home" ingredients from which Bont Bread is made.
